

Sierra Madre Youth Hut to Be Dedicated Saturday In Impressive Ceremonies

Mayor Steinberger to Accept Building for City

Dedication ceremonies for the newly completed Community Youth Hut located on the City's water works property on East Sierra Madre Blvd. will be held Saturday afternoon, December 14 at 2 p.m.

All organizations in the city, including churches, and fraternal and civic groups, have been invited to participate in the ceremonies which will include the City Club President Henry F. Korman, Mayor J. Milton Steinberger, who will take possession for the City. The general public is invited to attend.

Representatives of all local youth organizations will be present at the dedication, and members of Scout Explorer Post 108 in uniform will be in charge of the flag ceremony.

Harry A. Lange will represent the District Council, Boy Scouts of America; Mrs. Dan Strite, Girl Scouts; Mrs. Robert Newberry, Campfire girls and Pierre Kenyon, Monrovia YMCA secretary, will represent that organization.

Samuel McElfresh, Kiwanis Boys' and Girls' chairman, will act as master of ceremonies. Refreshments will be prepared by the Parent Teachers Association and members of the Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls will serve.

A community project from start to finish, the Youth Hut's construction was under supervision of the Sierra Madre Kiwanis club. Funds for purchase of materials came from the 1945 Community Fund Drive.

Local contractors Harold J. Spears and John Lorenzini both volunteered their services during the building's construction. It is estimated that more than half the entire work on the project was voluntary.

Charles Klunk of the Sierra Madre Hardware Co., did all the plumbing without cost, while Eber Thomas and sons did all electrical work on the same basis. Both firms charged only for materials used, and purely on a cost basis.

Bill Estes was in charge of the voluntary work contributed by numerous Sierra Madrenas on week ends throughout the summer and early fall. Senior Scouts of Explorer Post 108 were especially active in the voluntary phase of the work.

The new building will provide a long needed meeting place for local youth organizations. Applications have already been received from groups which desire to use the building after January 1.

Local Legion Host to 100 Ball Players

Nearly one hundred baseball players from the seven teams comprising the Junior Major League will be guests of the Sierra Madre Post of the American Legion, Monday evening at the City Hall.

The meeting will mark the end of the League's activities for this year, and an interesting program is planned according to Bill Lindsay, manager and coach of the local team. The annual trophy will be awarded, motion pictures will be shown, and there will be several short speeches by men who know baseball.

The League is composed of teams sponsored by the Altadena Lions Club, Pasadena Elks, Pasadena Lions, Pasadena American Legion Post 13, and other American Legion teams from Sunland, Verdugo and Sierra Madre.

Final League game for the season will be played Sunday, December 15, when Sierra Madre and Verdugo will play the final game for the championship at the County Park in Arcadia.

Thomas Virgin, who has managed American Legion Junior baseball teams since 1930, will be the principal speaker. His American Legion team (Sunrise Post of Los Angeles) won the regional championship in 1932, was national runner-up in 1938, and emerged with the national championship in 1942. He has had many boys on his teams who have since become big names in professional baseball, Mickey Owens, well-known as catcher for the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers; and Bobby Fier, this year's captain of the Boston Red Sox, are outstanding examples.

Another speaker will be Lester (Continued on page eight)

DONALD DAVEY PREPARING FOR RADAR TRAINING

Donald Davey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Davey of Monterey Lane, left last week for the U. S. Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Illinois, where he will take recruit training preparatory to entering Naval Electronics and Radar school at Chicago University.

A student at Pasadena Junior College until he passed the Eddy test and enlisted in the Navy, Donald was assistant scoutmaster of Troops 3 and 4 for the past year. His home has been in Sierra Madre almost since birth, and he attended Sierra Madre elementary school.

There was one passenger car for every five persons in the United States in 1940.

Lions Club Aims Outlined By Speaker In Presenting Official Chapter Banner

Sierra Madre Lions Club was presented with the official club banner by Dr. Clyde Martyn of Los Angeles, immediate Past District Governor of District 4-D in a ceremony at their Tuesday night dinner meeting in the Women's Clubhouse. The banner was to have been presented when the club was chartered last spring, but could not be obtained sooner because of war time fabric shortage.

Dr. Martyn, who was introduced by the newly inducted members, explained their responsibility in promoting community betterment, welfare for the underprivileged and preservation of club harmony.

He said, "Lions have gained an eminent position among service clubs in this country for there are now more Lions clubs in the United States than any other service club. District 4-D of Lions International of which Sierra Madre is a member, is the third largest in the world. The International Lions at Tientsin showed amazing courage during the invasion by the Japanese in World War II by holding under cover meetings and secretly providing shelter, food and medical supplies to war stricken allies. Now Lions are expanding rapidly among the Latin American countries, and eventually will establish clubs in the Philippines and Australia."

Highlighting the evening's program, Harvey Steinberger, Lion Tamer, entertained members with a report of a recent trip to Nevada when he and his sister, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, traveled to Reno for an old fashioned Thanksgiving.

Harold Drury, program chairman for the Ladies Night dinner, to be held at the Club House, Tuesday, Dec. 17, should be made by Friday, Dec. 13, by calling 5556. A gala evening is planned for the 24th, December 24 because of Christmas Eve.

Guests who attended the meeting were Arcadia Lions Harold Davis, Frank Glass and Vern Wickham, Past President of the Arcadia group; Harold Zook of Los Angeles and former well known Sierra Madren, Victor C. Hill of San Jacinto.

CITY TAKES ON ATMOSPHERE OF HOLIDAY SEASON

There's music in the air. Mr. Dumas of North Baldwin is again filling the street with the well known Christmas carols and hymns from a broadcasting device in front of the store. The Christmas spirit is gradually creeping into many of our windows. There are really some very lovely windows in our city and there are rumors of street decorating plans.

Bethany Pulpit Committee Named

Caused by the announcement of the departure of Rev. Stewart Sheriff from the pastorate of Bethany church, a pulpit committee has been named to select candidates for the succeeding minister. The candidates will be presented by the committee to the church membership. Serving in this capacity are J. R. Evans, E. Strancke, Clarence Schreier, Mrs. Fannie Sea and David Wallace. Rev. Sheriff's last sermon will be given December 29th.

POSTAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Postmaster Durning announces that the local Post Office will be open Saturday, December 14, and Saturday, December 21 until 6 P. M. to accommodate the public.

CHRISTMAS MUSICALS POSTPONED ONE WEEK

The Christmas Musicals to have been presented next Sunday December 15th at the Huntington Hotel by the Cosmopolitan Opera Association of Pasadena has been postponed one week. The event will take place Sunday afternoon, December 22nd. Many invitations have been received in Sierra Madre but the Musicals which feature Donald Thayer as guest artist, will take place one week later, same place, same time.

'High Lights' Christmas No. Is Issued

The Christmas number of "High Lights", monthly publication of the Sierra Madre Arts Guild, has just been issued. Edited by Leslie B. Wynne and illustrated by Alfred James Dewey, Bernard Wynne and Elmer M. Weese, the new issue contains four lithographs suitable for framing.

These are "The Joseph Conrad" by Bernard Wynne, showing the old ship in full sail on a rough sea; "Eucalypti-Baldwin Park" and "Study of a Sycamore" by Mr. Dewey, of scenes at Baldwin Lake on Rancho Santa Anita and "San Buenaventura Mission" by Mr. Weese.

Next meeting of the Arts Guild will be the annual Christmas party tomorrow evening, December 13, at the Arts Guild studio, 28 Windsor Lane.

Local Scouts Plan Holiday Desert Trek

The Annual Desert Caravan, Boy Scouts of America, will take place during the Christmas holidays, December 27, 28 and 29, with a large number of boys from Sierra Madre troops expecting to attend. Dr. Harry E. Morley announced this week.

Site of this year's rendezvous will be the mysterious Calico mountains, northeast of Yermo. Any Boy Scout is eligible to make the trip with the Caravan, but arrangements must be made for a health check-up prior to the trip, and written permission of parents is required. Sierra Madre Scouts are urged to get their applications in early with their adult leaders.

Lost Boy, 2½ Takes Town In His Stride

Jimmie, aged two and a half, came calmly in the Sierra Madre police station Saturday morning with three stalwart representatives of law and order gathered around him. Looking from one to another he said: "My name's Jimmie."

"What's your Daddy's name," he was asked. "Daddy," the boy replied in a tone that made the questioner shrink, "I have a Mommie, too, and a little sister named Susan."

"But what do other people call your Daddy?" "Different things," the lad replied.

For a boy who was lost, Jimmie showed a remarkable sense of ease. Not the slightest fear assailed him. Asked where he lived, Jimmie volunteered that there were some orange trees by his home. At this, the policemen all shook their heads, and Police Chief Gordon McMillan decided to drive the boy around town in his car, in an effort to locate his home.

Stopping from time, he asked people if they could identify the lad. Finally a woman on East Sierra Madre Blvd. said that the boy belonged somewhere on Bonita street.

As soon as the car rolled onto Bonita, Jimmie recognized the neighborhood and at 101 Bonita pointed to his home (with orange trees in the yard).

His mother, Mrs. W. P. Stratton, Jr., had not missed the boy. She knew that he had gone to town with his six year old brother, Skipper, and she thought the two were still together. But Jimmie had become separated from his brother and was having a grand time all by himself until a man who saw him had thought he was too young to be downtown alone and escorted him to the City Hall.

Preliminary Water Report Shows Inadequate Supply Brings Bad News To City

Not only enthusiasts for future annexation of the Hastings Ranch to the westward of the City, but every citizen of Sierra Madre as well, received bad news this week in a preliminary report on the much discussed survey of the City's actual and potential water resources.

Inadequacy of the city's water rights even to supply the present needs except in wet years, was implied in a letter received by the City Council, from Harold Conkling, Los Angeles consulting engineer, who made the survey.

Only the city's wells and potential additional wells were covered in the survey, but the total production of tunnel water which furnishes the balance of the City supply, is a matter of record. The tunnel supply is considered too variable to supply a certain source for the balance of the community's needs, Joe Swanson, City Street and Water Superintendent stated.

Possibility that an additional 109 acre feet of water might be obtained from the Eastern unit of the Raymond water basin by the Sierra Madre water department, was revealed in the preliminary report. This would represent roughly a nine per cent addition to the present annual supply from the basin if it can be purchased in its entirety.

Uncertainty of the mountain tunnels as a source of water is shown by their production during the past six years, in acre feet:

Year	Acres Feet
1940	448.64
1941	1163.41
1942	492.85
1943	1183.23
1944	1064.98
1945	735.92

Not only the tunnels but the city wells also vary from year to year in amount of water produced, depending upon the current season's rainfall.

Text of the water survey letter follows:

City Council,
Sierra Madre, California
Gentlemen:

The report on Water Supply of the City of Sierra Madre will be in your hands in about two weeks. It will show that the City's water rights are not sufficient to supply even the present demand in the city, except in wet periods of years.

The City must secure other water. Attention is called to the attached table giving a list of three water rights which it is believed may now be unused or which may cease use in the near future.

If these are abandoned, their pumpage would go to the ground water of the basin and probably be divided one-third to Sierra Madre and two-thirds to Arcadia. If purchased by Sierra Madre, the total purchased would go to Sierra Madre. It could be pumped at Sierra Madre's wells.

This letter is prompted by the fact that early action is desirable.

Sincerely,
HAROLD CONKLING.

Will It Be— No Christmas Spirit Here?

"NO CHRISTMAS IN SIERRA MADRE" is the expression frequently heard during the past few days among local residents, with reference to the city's total lack of street decorations for the Christmas season.

"I don't know what is the matter with Sierra Madre," one woman said. "We drove all over Southern California one day recently and found every city and town appropriately festooned for the Christmas season—all except Sierra Madre. Even the little town of Paris, a much smaller town than ours, was beautifully decorated."

"Sierra Madre looks positively gloomy after driving through other nearby towns with their Christmas lights and gay streamers," was another comment.

The Firemen's annual Christmas tree in the City Park has always been the one bright spot in local civic observance of Christmas.

Can't the community as a whole co-operate, as have the firemen, to give Sierra Madre's business district as much of the Christmas spirit as any place its size? We think it can.

Work Gets Under Way on Sierra Madre Float For Rose Tournament Parade

Construction of Sierra Madre's float for the New Year's Day Tournament of Roses got under way Sunday at the City Water Works park, under direction of Harold J. Spears and Alfred James Dewey.

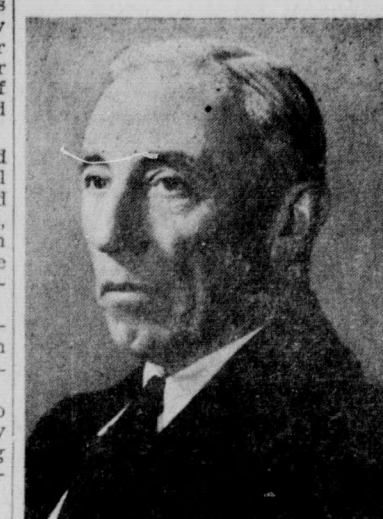

Herbert L. Kelley, engineer in charge of the float's initial frame work, others who worked on the project were Bill Estes, Robert Smith, Onie Kiggins, Vern Udell, Jack Moffat, Jimmie Spears, Francis Eakman and Eddie Robertson.

Work will continue next Sunday on the float, which when completed will portray the Hal-love-n theme.

Much ingenuity is going into the float which was designed by Mr. Dewey. Flowers are being supplied this year by J. C. Hansen of Rancho Road.

FLOAT MATERIALS NEEDED!

Mr. Dewey asks for screen wire. Because there is no chicken wire available, he requests that everyone bring old window screens and door screens to the arts studio by Saturday to be used in the construction of the float.

CARL J. PEGLER

S. M. Treas. Holds Record Office Term

Few public officials anywhere have had a longer tenure of office than Carl J. Pegler, Sierra Madre City Treasurer, who has filled that office for more than 32 years.

Mr. Pegler, who became Treasurer on October 1, 1914, during C. W. Jones' term as Mayor, has signed many checks for the city. In fact, since 1924 all authorizations for the expenditure of city funds have borne his signature.

His continued re-election to the office is adequate witness to the respect and confidence of his fellow citizens.

One of the early settlers of Sierra Madre, Mr. Pegler came here with his family in 1893. He was born in England and came with his parents to America in 1880, settling in Iowa where they came to California.

His father, J. C. Pegler, was one of the founders of the Sierra Madre-Lamanda Citrus Association. Others who participated in the Association's founding were J. G. Blumer, father of Mrs. C. W. Bowen, and Abbot Kinney, who developed the Kinneloa District in northeast Pasadena.

The City Treasurer has been a citrus fruit grower for more than 50 years. At present, his tract on East Orange Grove is planted entirely in lemons, which are distributed through the same citrus association which his father founded.

Old Siren to Sound Again Monday Noon Silent Since VJ Day

An attempt will be made to blow the old town siren next Monday at noon in place of the usual 12 o'clock whistle. James C. Heasley, city acoustics custodian announced this week, by way of warning to the citizenry. The old siren, located in the top of the City Hall, was blown last on VJ Day. Overcome by emotion, or more probably by old age, the siren broke down at that time. Having been recently repaired, it will be tested on Monday.

Travel on rural roads has climbed to all-time record peaks this year with gains in the Western States setting the pace.

During September, 1946, rural traffic was 27.7 per cent greater in the Western States than during the same month of the previous year, 1945.

WELL BABY CONFERENCE MAKES CHANGE OF SCHEDULE TO TUES.

The Well Baby Conference which has been of such great value in the City held once a month in the Park House has been changed from Wednesdays to Tuesdays. The clinic is now held on the second Tuesday in the month from 1:00 to 3:00 p. m.

The Chest Clinic including a physical and skin test for tuberculosis followed by X-Rays will be held the 4th Wednesday of the month. (The clinic for December falling on Christmas day will be omitted, the next one will be January 22nd, 1:00 to 3:00 p. m.)

The public Health Nurse in charge at the Well Baby Conference will be Mrs. Daisy Haman. The doctor, Dr. B. Poole and for the chest clinic, Dr. C. Walser.

Dr. J. M. Furstman of the Monrovia Health Center announced that also at the Well Baby Conference vaccination against small pox, and immunization for diphtheria and whooping cough will be given. For special appointments the Health Center may be called, Monrovia 50.

Zone Change O. K'd Without Opposition

The hopes of West Ramona Ave. residents for early action on the grading and paving of that thoroughfare were dashed Tuesday evening, when the City Council voted to reject all proffered as excessive in cost.

Only two bids have been received for the work since bids were opened early last summer, and these were opened and considered by the Council. Bidders were the Holman and Powell Paving Co. which offered to do the work for $8,000, and the American Asphalt and Paving Co., which wanted $10,402.50 for the same work.

Deciding that the city could not spend these amounts for the Ramona Ave. improvement, the Council rejected both and tabled the matter for reconsideration at a later date.

Under John Woehler's application for a change of zone for his property at South Baldwin and Suffolk Aves. This marked one of the final steps in changing the property from a residential to a commercial zone.

A preliminary report from Water Survey Engineer Harold Conkling of Los Angeles advising that the city's known water resources are now insufficient for any but wet years was read by City Clerk Eddie Robertson. The complete report on the survey, which was authorized by the City Council early this year, will be forthcoming within two weeks, the letter said. The matter was tabled, pending receipt of the final report.

Approval was given to a request from Paul N. Carter of N. Mt. Wilson Trail Road for a blasting permit, on the advice of Chief of Police Gordon McMillan.

Bids for the city's annual gasoline contract were read and considered, with the contract being awarded to Richfield Oil Co. as low bidder.

A letter from the Sierra Madre Kiwanis club was read, inviting all children of the City to attend dedication ceremonies for the new Youth Hut, Saturday afternoon.

A request from Mrs. Paul Carter for use of the Park house for a children's party on December 14 was approved, as was a request from the Harter W.C.T.U. for the Park house on December 20.

The Council voted to contribute the usual funds for advertising and promotion purposes in connection with the Annual Tournament of Roses.

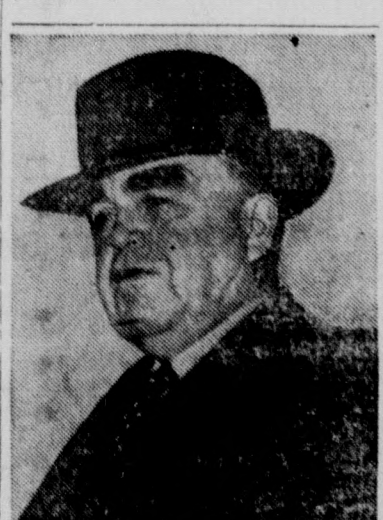

Inasmuch as the next regular meeting of the Council would fall on December 24, it was decided to postpone the meeting until Friday, December 27.

All members of the council were present at the Tuesday meeting.

91 Turn In Essays For Air Mail Contest

The Sierra Madre News takes pleasure in announcing the prize winners in the "Wings for a Nickel" essay contest sponsored by postal authorities. Postmaster Durning says the enthusiasm and number of essays turned in was more than gratifying. 91 essays were turned in by school children from St. Rita's and the Grammar schools to the post office December 1st.

First prize was awarded to Mary Anne Reynolds of St. Rita's School. The second to Jim E. Cook of the 7th Grade, the third to Janet Timmons of the 6th grade, and honorable mention to Joyce Thompson. The first prize was $5.00, second, $3.00, and third was $2.00. These prizes will be given to the winners on application at the post office. The prize-winning letters may be read elsewhere in the News.

Where to See Christmas Lighting

Southern California will glow with outdoor Christmas lightings this year as it has never glowed before, even in prewar years, the All-Year Club reported today.

To supply information for visitors and residents who only enjoy touring the holiday spectacles, a roundup of the lightings was made by the community tourist organization's Visitors Bureau.

Spectacles and starting dates include:

Hollywood Blvd's "Santa Claus Lane," 26-foot metal Xmas trees, 20,000 lights making it "brightest boulevard in America," nightly parade with Santa and stars riding sleigh with movie "prop" snowstorm, now lighted.

Altadena's "Mile of Christmas Trees," 6000 lights decorating 80-foot deciduous of Santa Rosa Ave., Dec. 24.

Glendale's "Tunnel of Lights," 3000 colored lights roofing Brand Blvd., now lighted.

Orange County's "40 Miles of Christmas Smiles," floating tree in Newport-Balboa Harbor, oil field transformed into Xmas fairyland shrine at Huntington Beach, Dec. 20.

Beverly Hills, reviving prewar "Christmas Nights Festival," contest of decorating homes of stars and others, Dec. 23.

Nativity Tableaux, St. Elizabeth's Church, Altadena, Christmas season.

Downtown Los Angeles, two miles, street decorations, now lighted.

Wilshire Blvd, "Miracle Mile," 30-foot living trees, now lighted.

Exposition Park, Los Angeles, Coliseum's "Christmas Tree Lane," Christmas season.

San Diego, 21 blocks decorated with lights, Christmas season.

Inglewood parkway, lighted trees, Christmas season.

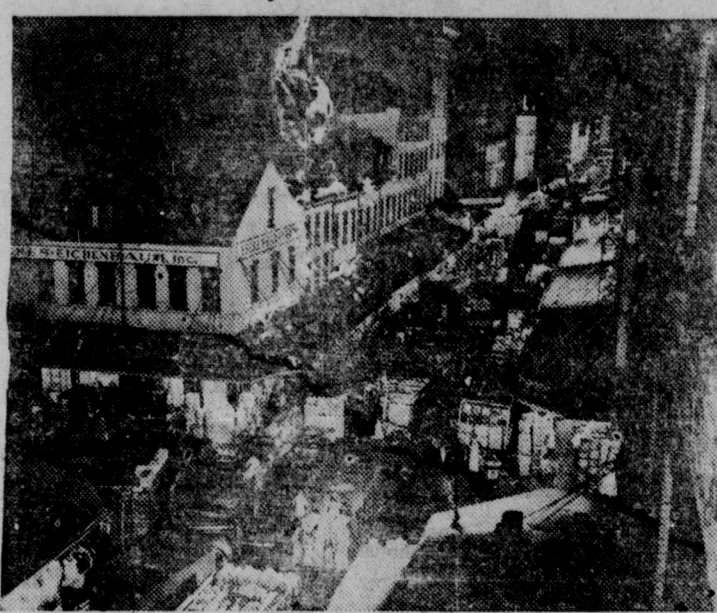

Euclid Avenue, Ontario and Upland, lighting along famed pepper tree lane, Christmas season.

Canoga Park, lighting, parade and street dance, movie and radio stars, now lighted.

Huntington Park, Pacific Blvd., now lighted.

CAMERA TOPICS

by T. T. Holden*

Fifty-two flashbulbs were used by Herbert Gehr, Life Magazine photographer, to take this unusual Second Prize Winner in the Pictorial class of the Second Graflex Photo Contest. Made with a Speed Graphic, the exposure was 5 seconds at f/5.6.

PHOTOGRAPHY A UNIVERSAL HOBBY

No more graphic proof of the widespread interest everyone has in photography is necessary than to see the mountains of pictures that were submitted in the Second Graflex Photo Contest. Despite the shortages of film, paper, mounting boards and other requisites, more than eight thousand entries were received from all parts of the country. Contestants ranged from high school youngsters to grandmothers. Many of the biggest professional photographers were represented, along with thousands of ordinary amateurs who used only taken up photography recently.

By far the largest number of pictures submitted were in the Pictorial class. Running a close second and third in popularity were Portraits and Landscapes. Unquestionably, these are America's favorite picture subjects. Many of the contestants mentioned that they had not gone out looking for pictures, but just happened to have their cameras along when interesting picture material presented itself. Others wrote of having spent days looking for just the right subject for a certain picture. One man spent eight hours just preparing to make one picture. The exposure was finally made with the help of 52 flashbulbs which had been carefully strung along the street to give the effect he was after. Another photographer, needing two exposures on one negative to give the effect he was after, waited in a snowstorm for over three hours for just the right moment to press the shutter release.

Few if any photographers entered this contest just to win part of the five thousand dollars in prizes that were offered. Rich and poor, doctor and farmer, grandparent and youngster, they just like to make pictures. Contests offer them a chance to put the work they are proudest of against other amateurs and professionals.

Photography is truly America's greatest hobby. As film and cameras become more plentiful now, more and more people will find the pleasure and satisfaction to be had taking pictures, as an end in themselves or in connection with sports, hiding and other hobbies.

Increasing Popularity For Camptailers Produced by Two-Man Local Concern

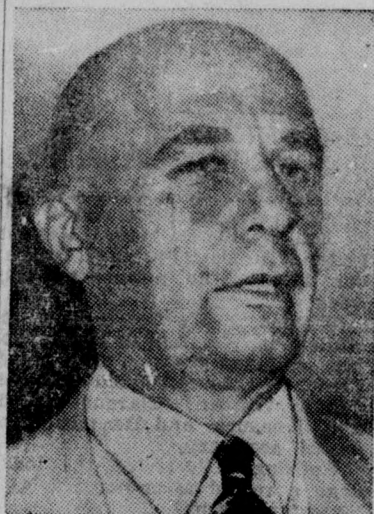

Two men do all the work at the Sierra Trailer and Manufacturing Co., assembly plant at 52 North Baldwin. And there is much work to be done, including all the functions of manufacturing, procurement of materials, selling and distributing the finished product.

The two men, E. S. Quittmeyer and Brig Ostergaard, are building Moose Camptailers in Sierra Madre and selling them throughout the western states. The two-wheeled economy camptailer is of sturdy all-metal construction. It is built to ride smoothly at all speeds without sway, and is low enough to allow unobstructed rear view for the driver. Hunters, fishermen and vacationists in general are the principal buyers of the "Moose" which can be quickly converted into a handy utility trailer with room to haul home several hunters' quota of venison, in addition to ample storage for camping equipment.

The trailer is sold complete with two beds, mattresses, tires, an ice box, chairs and a waterproof tent. Starting production last June, the two men have maintained a steady output of one finished camp trailer each day. Mr. Quittmeyer handles the purchasing and sales work for the company, while Mr. Ostergaard is production manager, machinist, welder and painter.

Popularity of the product is so great that the two men are looking forward to expansion of their output when materials become available in greater volume.

At present, the camp trailer is being sold throughout California, as well as in Arizona, New Mexico and Kansas.

Rare Cat-Dog Friendship Found Here

One of those rare instances of a platonic friendship between a cat and a dog is found in the relationship of Lloyd Welch's cat, "Tiny" and his Irish Setter, "Boy".

The large gray cat perched on the hood of automobiles parked along Baldwin Ave. is a familiar sight to early morning strollers. That is Tiny's favorite resting place, safe out of reach of unfriendly dogs.

But when passing dogs do annoy Tiny, then Boy, who is usually somewhere within sight or sound, comes bounding to the rescue. He has often tackled much larger dogs for tormenting his feline lady friend.

And Boy neither forgets nor forgives the dogs which have at some previous time disturbed Tiny. Many of those who know the shaggy red-haired setter tell of his keen memory of past wrongs and his obsession for punishing canine offenders.

Tiny began sitting on auto radiators four years ago, Mr. Welch recalls. She is not discriminate about whose car she sits on, and when the owner starts the motor to drive away, she merely moves over to another car to continue her siesta.

Once, Welch recalls, the cat went to sleep in the back seat of an automobile parked in front of his store, and when the owner drove into his garage in Azusa late that evening he saw in his rear-view mirror a large gray cat staring at him from the ledge over the back seat.

That might have been the end of Tiny's sojourn in Sierra Madre, but the Azusan returned her next day.

Tiny has been a Welch family pet since she was a kitten, 12 years ago. She is very fond of children's attention.

In addition to Boy's fondness for his master's cat, he is a great lover of ice cream and candy. He will follow an ice cream truck begging for his favorite dessert. Given an opportunity, he will playfully take candy away from children, and eat it himself.

Boy also enjoys riding on the store's delivery truck. When deliveries are being made, and the truck is stopping for a brief interval only, he senses this and will not budge from his seat until a longer stop is made.

The dog is seven years old and has been a family pet since puppyhood.

Yes, Taxes Are High

Per capita tax burden averaged $470 for each of the 9,250,000 people in the state.

Tax collections from the people of California totalled $4,350,000,000 for the year ending June 30, 1946.

Federal tax collections amounted to $3,325,284,000, about 75 per cent of the total tax bill.

State tax collections were $609,259,000, all-time peak in the state's history, and almost 10 per cent more than 1945.

Local tax levies also reached their all-time high, at $415,648,000, about 20 per cent higher than the $345,973,000 collections for fiscal 1945.

There was a slight decrease in Federal taxes, but State increases of 10 per cent and local levies increases of 20 per cent wiped out much of the benefit the people might have enjoyed from Federal reductions.

Auto Trip To Joshua Tree Interesting

A bright spot on the California tourist scene is the Joshua Tree National Monument and its scenic beauty should note it is a "must see" on their sight-seeing agenda.

This recent addition to our National Park System is located in San Bernardino County and consists of almost a million acres of some of the most beautiful desert and mountain country to be found anywhere.

There are good roads throughout the area and those who enjoy hiking may climb mountains, scale rocks the size of office buildings or explore numerous caves and intriguing byways. Equestrians will find miles of inviting trailways for riding parties and camping expeditions off the beaten paths of the motor highways.

The area is rich in the quantity and the variety of vegetation. Many of the species found are extremely rare. Freakish and fantastic rock formations provide unusual subject material for the artist or camera enthusiast.

The town of Joshua Tree is located at the Northwestern entrance to the Monument and here you may obtain excellent meals and accommodations for a healthful and pleasant stay of days or weeks. The climate is mild throughout the year with warm, sunny days and cool, refreshing nights.

The Joshua Tree National Monument is located 130 miles East of Los Angeles via Routes 60, 70 and 99 to a point 15 miles East of Banning, thence Northeast on the 29 Palms Highway to the Town of Joshua Tree and the park entrance.

NOT A BAD CREED FOR ANY TOWN! But especially appropriate for Ourville, Say II!

WE SHOULD MAKE AND KEEP OUR businesses, our streets and our homes attractive. A town, like a person, develops its own character. If that character is true, and if it builds friends - the kind who like you in spite of your faults - then that is the kind of town we must have. Beautiful store fronts, like heavily-embossed women, mean nothing if used to cover a rotten character.

POP TELLS ME THAT WHEREVER he goes he hears this comment: "Sierra Madre? Oh, yes, that nice little town on the hill! Gee, I would like to live there some day." And so forth . . .

THIS DOES NOT MEAN THAT WE should be smug. To me it means this: a greater responsibility to keep Sierra Madre the kind of place in which people want to live and rear their children, to preserve its ideology of right living, good thinking and artistic development, and finally, to overlook no improvement which will enhance our value to our friends either as individuals or as customers.

An extra meeting is scheduled for the Woman's club next Wednesday afternoon, December 18th, at 2:00 p.m., that members may bring gifts for the adult patients at the Rancho Los Amigos Home. The Woman's club has adopted the home for the year and is receiving enthusiastic support from the Night Section of the club. The Chairman of this section, Mrs. Wm. Stoddert, reports not only quantities of attractively wrapped packages for boys and girls brought to the party Monday evening but $20 in cash. The section now has materials so that each child at the Rancho will have a gift, a warm piece of clothing and a Christmas treat besides.

The ladies will ask the manager of the home to spend the cash donations for something that the children need. Miss June Heden and Arlene Decker were hostesses Monday night. The club rooms were lovely decorated with holly, red berries, candles and Christmas bells which was the artistic contribution of Mrs. Cynthia Ellet.

KATIE E. MANN

Sister's Betrothal Revealed to Public

Mrs. Allen McKenzie, 391 West Sierra Madre Blvd. announced the engagement of her sister, Katie E. Mann to Donald V. Miller. Miss Katie is one of the very popular young ladies of the city, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Mann.

Donald Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Val Miller of 144 San Gabriel Ct. and is considered among the talented group of Sierra Madre. A definite date for the wedding has not been revealed.

The Eteri Alpha and Beta clubs at Bethany church are giving their annual Christmas Banquet December 19th at the church at 6:30. Miss Jean Mitchell has been secured as the guest speaker. Miss Mitchell is member of the A. E. Mitchell family of Los Angeles which maintains a compound for going out missionaries and returning missionaries, known as the "Go Ye Missionary Fellowships". Miss Mitchell, considered one of the most interesting, thrilling and fascinating speakers, is home on leave from the mission field in India.

The Eteri club at Bethany was organized 20 years ago with Natalie Romans as teacher. Miss Romans has continued her teaching since which is a remarkable record and a credit to her ability.

Entertain for U.S.C. Sigma Phi Epsilon
Mr. and Mrs. William Wayne Farrar, 1311 Rodeo Rd., are entertaining tomorrow night at a cocktail party for Sigma Phi Epsilon, fraternity of their son, William, Jr., who is attending USC. Twenty couples are expected for dancing and games.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrar are also entertaining a group of 30 for dinner Saturday night.

Negro Preacher's Description of Hell
A pastor of a negro church was delivering a sermon on the burning question of whether or not there is a Hell.

"Bredren", he said, "de Lord done made de world round like a ball".

"Amen", agreed the congregation.

"And de Lord put de world on an axle, wid one end at de North Pole and de other end at de South Pole."

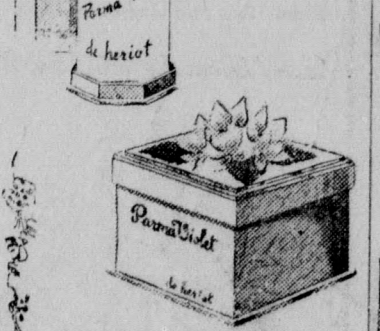

"Amen" cried the congregation.

"And de Lord put a lot of oil and grease in de center of de world to keep dat axle runnin' smooth."

"AMEN".

"And den a lot of sinners dig wells and steal de Lord's oil and grease. And some day dey will have all de Lord's oil, and den dat old axle is gonna git dry and hot. And when dat times comes, dat will be Hell! Bredren, dat will be HELL!"

CIVIC CLUB WILL TAKE CHRISTMAS TO OLIVE VIEW

The patients at Olive View Sanatorium are to have an extra treat this year from the Civic club when the annual Christmas party is given next Tuesday evening. A male quartet of Sierra Madre musicians, Francis Eakman, Clarence Noshier, James Heasley and Donald Thayer will sing Christmas Carols and Donald Thayer will sing several solos. Lorne Pratt will be in the role of Santa Claus to distribute the gifts.

G. E. Williams Buys Resort Property in Navajo Country

Mr. and Mrs. Gale E. Williams, 421 Mariposa Ave., have purchased 11 acres of timber land in the White mountains of Arizona for resort purposes. The property is located in Navajo country on the highway between Lakeside and Pinetop five miles from the Apache Indian reservation. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are planning a trip there in January to have their wills drilled.

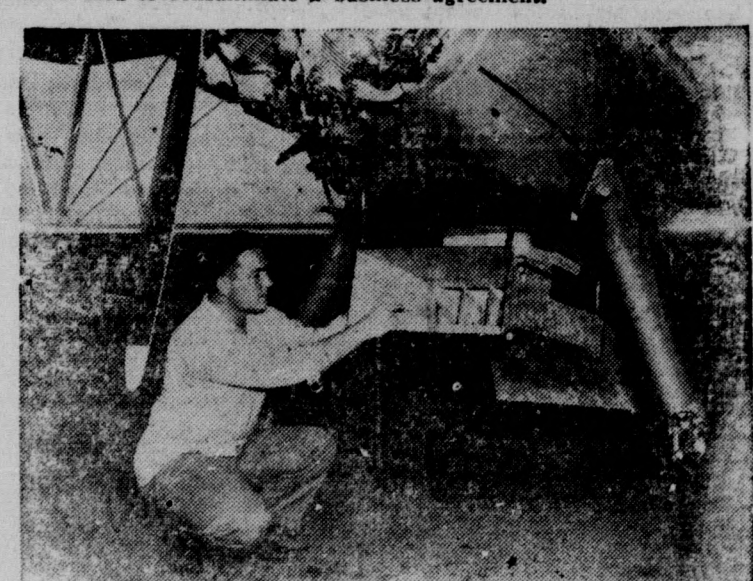

SWISS CRASH HERO . . . Brig. Gen. Ralph Tate Sr., is shown with his son, Capt. Ralph Tate Jr., after the latter had been brought to Moiringer, Switzerland, by one of the Swiss rescue planes. Captain Tate was pilot of the plane that crashed on the rugged glacier. His mother was one of the passengers. Airmen say that the captain's feat of crash-landing the plane on the rugged glacier without loss of life was remarkable.

TWIN NURSES CARE FOR TRIPLETS . . . Student nurses and twin sisters, Georgette, left, and Colette Dussault, St. Albans, Vt., hold the Skicke triplets, all boys, born at the Brady Maternity hospital, Albany, N. Y., to Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Skicke. The triplets are the first children born to the Skickes. All are in excellent health and thriving. So far they have not expressed themselves about their good fortune in having the twin nurses take care of them.

BUSINESS BY TELEVISION . . . A legally binding contract was signed simultaneously by executives of Dumont television laboratory, New York City, and motor company in Washington, D. C., as both contracting parties saw and heard each other by means of television. It was the first time that this newest medium of communication has been used to consummate a business agreement.

Two former pilots for Uncle Sam now are conducting aerial warfare against insects out around Fort Collins, Colo. Leslie L. Craig here points out a dust spray dispenser attached to their plane. An equally effective liquid spraying device can also be used. A Veterans Administration approved loan helped establish Craig and his partner, Charles J. Morrison, in their unusual business.

Wells Home Scene of Thimble Club Annual Christmas Dinner

The Thimble club is holding its annual Christmas party Saturday night at the home of Mrs. C. H. Wells at 829 Alta Vista Drive. The affair, which is the club's big social event of the year, will include husbands for turkey dinner, tree and exchange of gifts. Mrs. Earl Topping is secretary and Mrs. Wells, treasurer, of the club. 30 guests are expected.

CHRISTMAS PLAY AT SCHOOL WED. DECEMBER 18th

"The Town That Couldn't Have Christmas" is the title of the Christmas play which will be presented by students at Sierra Madre Elementary school, Wednesday, December 18 at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Vivien Olson, art and dramatics instructor, will direct the production which will use the entire school orchestra and the combined chorus. The music will be under supervision of Miss Esther Santee, music instructor, and Mrs. Wanda Weihs of the kindergarten staff.

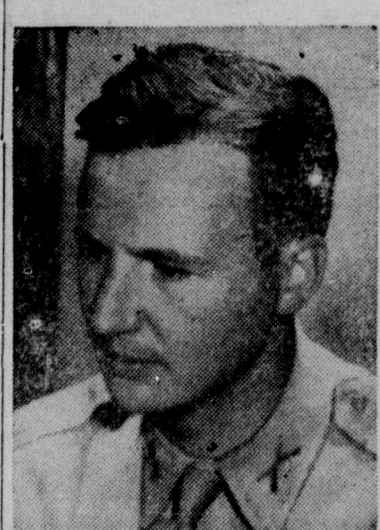

All parents and friends of the school are invited to the play which will be presented in the school auditorium. Wednesday, December 18 will be the last school day of the year for Sierra Madre students. The Christmas vacation will last two and a half weeks, with the classes resuming Monday, January 6, 1947.

Explorer Post to be Maintained by Forestry Personnel

It will be good news to boys in the South East part of the city and Arcadia to hear that an Explorer Post No. 1 is to be sponsored at the U. S. Forestry Warehouse and Shop by Local 703. The headquarters will be at 701 N. Santa Anita Drive. The troop committee is composed of men well qualified. They are either in the field or the warehouse of the Forestry service. Leslie McCoud of the Santa Anita Ranger Station is one of the assistant post advisors.

The troop desires to reach new boys who have never been connected with Scouting. The boy must be 15 years of age. Applications may be obtained from 701 N. Santa Anita Drive.

16,347 more veterans were added to the payroll in this area in November for school subsistence checks under the G-I Bill. Nearly 50,000 World War II veterans are now attending approved educational institutions, and 18,539 taking on-the-job training under this Bill.

Sun. Event Honors Bride-Elect of South American

Miss Grace Nord entertained 12 young ladies at her home, 139 S. Baldwin, Sunday, honoring Margaret Cox with a miscellaneous wedding shower. The engagement of Miss Cox to Enrique Alonzo of Bogota, Columbia, has been announced since her return from South America last month. Miss Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cox of 269 E. Laurel spent the last year in Bogota in the U. S. Civil Service.

The wedding date which is to take place around the first of the year will be made public in the near future when Mr. Alonzo arrives in the States. Mr. Alonzo is an auditor and the young people plan to make Sierra Madre their future home.

MRS. CURRAN CELEBRATES 85th BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Sarah A. Curran, 110 E. Highland Ave., was honored on her 85th birthday anniversary at a luncheon given by her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Chitry, and her son-in-law, William H. Wolf, in Los Angeles, December 3.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mantes and son, Dickie, and Mesdames Horner, Mildred Kent, Holmberg, Florence Jones, Meyers, Garrett, Short, Calvert, Emma Lovell, Clesseneura, Mr. Walter Hedrick, and Mrs. Curran's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Curran of Santa Monica.

Mrs. Curran was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts.

HELEN NAROZNY HOME FROM L. A. HOSPITAL

Mrs. Helen Hawley Narozny of 630 Fairview was brought home from General Hospital, L. A. Tuesday where she was taken last week Wednesday following an accident in her home. Mrs. Narozny fainted and in the fall broke her ankle. Last year Mrs. Narozny had a similar experience and broke her right arm.

To Enter Racing This Season
Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Renwick, 1120 Rodeo Rd., plan to enter their two year old chestnut filly, "Gay Countess" in the Santa Anita races in January. The young horse, raised by the Renwicks in Arcadia, is a special pet of Mrs. Renwick. It is now under training at the track and shows promise for racing.

BALLING BABY TALK

BY MAXINE BALLING

SOAP! How in the world they do it, with soap so scarce, I don't know, but the Balling Baby Soap just received some of the cutest baby soap sets you ever saw. Each bar has a bright colored picture clear through, to tempt the most soiled youngster to scrub and scrub to wear it off . . . but he never does, and he becomes cleaner and cleaner before he knows it. Gift box of 8 large bars with two jig-saw puzzles to boot, all for $1. Box of 6 bars, 75c. Now there's a gift idea that's different!

ANOTHER clever new idea is a book of "Ready-Ribbons" for the little girls. It's a large book with slotted pages for 66 hair ribbons, with four nice ribbons in place to show how to keep them flattened out and ready instead of having to paw through a drawer of messed-up ribbons.

WANT A SUGGESTION or two on toys? How about clay modeling sets? Or newspaper headline printing sets? Cap pistols for the young ranger? (250 extra loud but harmless caps for 10c). How about a great big hobby horse named "Husky" with yellow mane and tail? Or a stuffed clown 3 feet tall? We received some more of those little tole shoes which were so popular all last summer. They have durable "phenolic" wheels that don't mar floors, so they can skate indoors.

SEVERAL PEOPLE have said that our new doll buggies are the best ones they've seen anywhere. They're collapsible and built just like the big ones.

MOST LUXURIOUS GIFT we could suggest for the baby in your family is a soft, warm, fluffy celanese quilt with 100% virgin wool inside. Pink or blue, or pink-and-blue stripes, $6.95.

For the table beside baby's bed we have a new plastic night light that won't break when it gets knocked around. There's a colorful Mother Goose character on the shade that gets all lit up . . . well that is, it glows cheerfully. $4.95. We will now change the subject and talk about Mother Goose framed pictures for $1.50.

OUTPLAYING TRUMAN . . . Tommy may lack the experience of President Truman as a piano player, and his twin sister, Kathy, may not be a Helen Morgan, but they demonstrate their technique. Their father is Reid W. McGibbeny, industrial arts teacher in Crafton, Pa., high school. When the twins were born they were not expected to live, but now the husky pair provides their 85 pound mother, Mrs. Dorothy McGibbeny, 21, with plenty of excitement, including their piano diet.

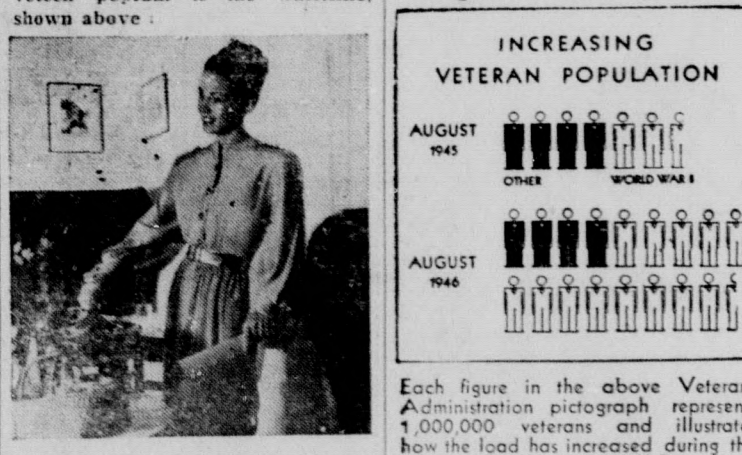

The word, Creole, does not necessarily imply a person of mixed blood nor does it show distinction of color. The meaning has local variations, applying to descendants of non-aboriginal races born and settled in the West Indies, various parts of the United States, and in certain places settled by the Spanish, Portuguese, and English.

Pinafores are really most at home on the very young. Excellent dress for children's style is the pinafore shown above.

Important feature of the black rayon-faille changeabout, tie on velvetene pepum is the waistline, shown above.

A dress that does away with uncertainty—a dress that is right for luncheon, club meeting, dinner—is the rayon crepe shown above as simple as a shirtwaist dress, with news in the collarless neckline, sleeves slit from shoulder to wide cuff. Belt buttons and gold kid belt add lustre.

Platinum money was coined in Russia in 1828. Ancient Greeks thought the bean provoked insomnia and nightmares.

KILROY WON STREETCAR . . . Winner of a contest sponsored by American Transit association with letter on subject, "Kilroy Was Here," James Kilroy, Halifax, Mass., his wife and nine children take over their prize—a streetcar. The car will be moved from the Boston elevated yards to Fairfax, where the Kilroys will remodel and use it for an addition to their present home. The youngsters claim it will make an ideal play room.

First Chinese Firecrackers Arrive In States Since 1941

The Solid South is going to get a "bang" out of Christmas this year for the first time since the start of World War II.

A shipment of 15,000 pounds of Chinese firecrackers left Los Angeles by air last night destined for Atlanta, Ga., and Nashville, Tenn., where there are no ordinances to prevent celebration of the Christmas holidays with explosives.

Arriving here recently via the motorship Granville from China, the firecrackers were scheduled to move by Santa Fe Railway to their destination. Delay occasioned by the longshoremen's strike, however, caused transfer of the shipment to the air line.

Before the war, many large shipments of Chinese firecrackers moved by rail to the South but this is the first movement of this type since 1941, officials said.

Reading Aid For Wounded Veterans

Though it will be many months yet before Earl Gregory, Fort Smith, Ark., completely recovers from extensive war burns, the Navy veteran is able to read many books with the aid of this new projector-type device at Jefferson Barracks Veterans Administration Hospital, St. Louis, Mo. A slight tug on the cord over his shoulder "turns the page." Miss Lucy E. Jones, hospital librarian, here gives the patient an assist. The film can be projected on the ceiling for persons unable to sit up.

Roots of Culture Good Taste THEN and NOW

A NATION'S OR A FAMILY'S CULTURE HAS ALWAYS BEEN INDICATED BY ITS JEWELRY.

QUEEN NEFERTITI, WITH EGYPTIAN "COLLAR" NECKLACE, ILLUSTRATES THE BEAUTY AND TASTE OF A LOFTY CIVILIZATION.

DURING THE MIDDLE AGES, "BLESSED" BRACELETS WERE RENTED BY THE DAY TO WARD OFF THE PLAGUE.

THE BRILLIANT FRENCH COURT OF FRANCIS I, SCINTILLATED WITH THE JEWELRY OF BENvenuto CELLINI, SIXTEENTH CENTURY MASTER JEWELER.

TODAY'S FASHIONABLE, MESHED "SNAKE" NECKLACES AND BRACELETS BRING UP-TO-DATE THE ANCIENT SERPENT SYMBOL FOR WISDOM AND GOOD FORTUNE.

Sleekness is the keynote of the black rayon-crepe skirt, rayon-taffeta blouse in a glistening white with silver threads shown above.

A very special Christmas dress of gold rayon taffeta with a back that bustles and a tiny waist is shown above.

A girl's first black dress must be a memorable one. Shown above is a dance-and-date dream in rayon crepe, with a distinctive collar, scalloped in blue or pink.

26 new automobiles were delivered in the Los Angeles area in November to veterans who lost one or both legs, or the use of both legs as a result of World War II service. These cars were given them by the government. Total applications for cars now total 396.

WHEN YOU LIFT UP YOUR EYES UNTO THE HILLS

The following from the pen of Alex Remillard, 78 S. Hermosa, is such an accurate tribute to our fair city that we are pleased to reproduce it in the NEWS:

"As a comparative newcomer to Sierra Madre, I am impelled to express my opinion of this lovely city. If others could come and live as I have in this picturesque little community nestled at the foot of Mother Mountain, they would love it as I do.

"A very wise man once said, 'I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence my strength cometh.'

"Few of us are poets for philosophers but I believe that most of us who live in the shadow of this mountain do find daily strength and comfort in her serene beauty as we end our sometimes hectic day.

"You cannot live in our little village for very long without becoming aware of the fact that there is something pleasantly different about the spirit of the people of this community.

"People seem to care a little less about your station in life or what salary you make or what sort of house you live in. What is more, people seem to take it for granted that you are nice people and welcome you as such into the community.

"During rationing days I have had excellent cuts of meat over the counter, when in many communities it was necessary to know the 'right' people in order to buy even inferior cuts through the back door.

"I have seen a very smartly dressed and obviously prosperous couple stop to admire the new baby of a happy young Japanese-American family—not with any patronizing air but with the sincere interest any of us show toward our accepted friends.

"I have met people who were affiliated with the various churches in our town and found that their invitations to join them were simple expressions of welcome and that those invitations could even be declined without bringing forth either censure or rancor on their part.

"Surely in these somewhat disturbing times it is a privilege to live in our little village and we need not apologize for expressing the wish that others might join our little colony and respond as I have to the solace of our Mother Mountain and feel the strength we all receive when we lift our eyes unto the hills."

The Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal is actually more easterly than the Atlantic entrance. The canal does not go, as is generally supposed, from east to west. Instead, it runs due south, turns sharply east and then follows a southeasterly course.

POLICE BLOTTER

Passersby help themselves to flowers growing in parkway so carefully planted and cared for by the resident, I'd object too, and I also object to a paper boy or man knocking off my new double red poinsettias that were just about to burst into bloom. Dog-gone him anyway, I loved those posies . . . An animal poisoner reported in our city. Such cruelty to animals is just about unbelievable. Imagine the suffering of some living things with poison in their stomachs. Are there really such cruel people? . . . A trailer parked in the street arouses investigation . . . A prowler . . . A house moving in the streets would naturally call for a look-see. Nowadays some of us would do anything for a house . . . A putt-putt being ridden by a boy puts people purring perfectly, puffing points. And that's putting it mildly . . . A water leak . . . A lost purse . . . A chicken killing dog . . . When a man rushed off with a dog confined in the rear compartment of his car, a sympathetic lady came running after him. The usual result. Lady was not afraid, so there were no blows struck . . . Here's one. Lost house and car keys. Well, if the house is lost, maybe it was the one that was moving along the street, or maybe the keys are in the lost house. Find one and the other will be there . . . Fumes from running auto engine bother neighbors. Such fumes are not pleasant . . . A prowler turned out to be a fireman at the door with a handful of pink tickets. The lady was glad to see the fireman and glad to buy a ticket . . . After arriving in Los Angeles, a lady remembered that she had left her car keys in the switch after parking along Sierra Madre street. The coppers found it and cached it away for her . . . Little Jimmie age 2½ years was brot to the station. He said his mother's name was "Mommy" and he was looking for "Skippy". He didn't seem to mind. He had lots of things to play with in the police station . . . Few are being cited for various violations of ordinances and laws. One who found a citation on her car for overtime parking was very much peeved at the coppers. One of the policemen wouldn't tell us who, but he said he received a fine bawlin' out on account of this lady getting a ticket. He said the lady certainly had a fine expression and poor impression of everybody in general connected with the making and enforcing of rules and regulations. He also said he didn't care so much about the impression, but the expression shocked him so that he doubts very much if he will ever outlive it. It must have been that she said something he thought she would never say . . . That's right . . . A broken water pipe in a neighbor's yard. Sprayed everything around it.

GOV. WARREN CHAIRMAN OF MARCH OF DIMES

Governor Earl Warren has been named California State Chairman of the 1947 March of Dimes which takes place January 15-30. Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has announced. The March of Dimes is the annual fund-raising appeal of the National Foundation, a non-profit organization founded in 1938 by the late President Roosevelt and supported entirely by voluntary contributions of the American people. "Many of this year's polio patients," Mr. O'Connor said, "will require hospitalization and care for a long period of time. The after-care of these patients will be more expensive than treatment in the acute stage of the disease. The high cost of epidemics demonstrates the real need for the services of public-spirited men like Governor Warren. His efforts will prove of great value in the forthcoming appeal."

MANY YOUNG MEN ENLIST IN REG. ARMY AT PASADENA

Sixty two men enlisted in the Regular Army during the month of November at the local Army Recruiting office located at 129 No. Marengo, according to Major Russell W. Miller, local Commanding Officer. The Major stated that there had been a drop in enlistments, however, he attributed this to the Holiday season and the fact that most of the eligible young men in the area enlisted during September and October. During these two months 708 men were enlisted through the local station, which is one of the outstanding records in the United States.

New Phone For City Hall Departments

Sierra Madre city officials are pleased to announce that separate telephone wires have now been installed for the different city offices, doing away with the switch board arrangement whereby all calls were relayed through the police department switchboard.

Instead of dialing 3322 (still the Police Department's number) when calling the city clerk, street and water superintendent or building inspector, those offices may now be called direct.

New telephone number of the city clerk's office is 3327 while the street and water superintendent and city building inspector share 4831.

The new arrangement is expected to greatly facilitate telephone service to the city hall, and will take a definite burden off the police line, which was heretofore connected with the switchboard.

Cox, a local man who has had over 30 years' experience as player with and manager of semi-pro baseball clubs. He is now manager of the Chamberlain Athletics, top-flight Pasadena team which is tied for the championship of the Orange Belt League.

Following the program, which will be held in the Council Room, the meeting will adjourn to the Legion Dug Out where a "help-yourself-supper" will be served. Mr. Lindsay says that while the Dug Out's pool and ping pong tables doubtless will be inadequate to handle all the boys, he feels sure that musical entertainment and "barber shop harmony" will more than satisfy the rest.

John R. McCarthy, Noted Nature Poet Immortalizes Sierra Madre in Verse

Sierra Madre and the adjoining mountains are being immortalized in verse by John Russell McCarthy of Vista Circle Drive, whom John Burroughs called the best nature poet since Emerson.

"Emrico Considers" and "At 10 P. M. the News", his two most recently published books of verse, both had local settings, as have many of his nature lyrics which have been published in a score or more nationally known magazines and newspapers.

His verse is constantly appearing in such publications as Saturday Evening Post, Woman's Home Companion, Saturday Review of Literature, The New York Times, The Washington Post, and Poetry magazine.

At present, two book manuscripts are ready for submission to publishers, and new verse is constantly in the making as the poet looks out from his windows across the San Gabriel valley, or communes with Nature on nearby mountain trails.

McCarthy's poetry takes the form of lyrics, ballads and blank verse, and varies from brief couplets to long narrative poems. His initial books, "Out of Doors" and "Gods and Devils", published in 1918, deeply impressed the great naturalist John Burroughs, who, writing of the decline of great poetry said: "Yet we do not need to be too much discouraged, England has produced Massfield, and America has given us John Russell McCarthy who has written the best nature poetry since Emerson."

In 1919, Burroughs invited the poet to visit him at his Woodchuck Lodge home in the foothills of New York State. Later, McCarthy accompanied Burroughs on a trip to the Grand Canyon. Thus began a friendship that lasted until Burroughs' death. The naturalist was returning East from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy in California, when he was fatally stricken.

His nature poetry brought him the award of the John Burroughs Memorial medal, given annually to the author making the greatest contribution to nature literature. Only two others, William Beebe and Ernest Thompson Seton, preceded him in receipt of this honor.

McCarthy's poetry is known to critics for its musical quality and for the clarity of its message. Looking at the world from a vantage point high above the smog, his verse breathes a challenging freshness.

He says frankly that he knows the mountain trails much better than the streets of Sierra Madre or of any other nearby cities.

The nature poet has been a regular contributor to national magazines since 1910. He turned to writing verse while editor of a weekly newspaper in Pennsylvania.

Coming to California soon after his marriage in 1920, he was associated for a time with Manchester Boddy, in the publication of a magazine. Then he became literary editor for the Powell Publishing Co. in Los Angeles, and among other things turned out a nine-volume history of California, authored by Edwin Markham, Dr. Harold C. Bryant, Dr. Robert G. Cleland, Mrs. Nellie Sanchez and others.

Looking now at his two original books of verse, McCarthy reflects on the many happy sequences to their publication. These collections of his verse helped to win him the friendship of Burroughs, of Edwin Markham, of Hamlin Garland and many others whose friendships he deeply treasures.

These books led him across the continent and to make his home in California. He has lived in Sierra Madre for the past eight years.

Prize Winners in "Wings for a Nickle" Airmail Contest

The following essays are the prize winners in the "Wings for a Nickle" contests which closed December first at the local post office. They appear as 1st, 2nd, 3rd and honorable mention:

It's Safe! It's swift! It's reliable! It's economical! That's airmail. Just think you can send a letter one-half the way around the world in a few hours for only five cents. You can hire Mercury to carry your mail for only a nickel.

—Mary Ann Reynolds

I am very pleased to know that the air mail system is expanding so greatly. It is quite a contrast to the pony express which was used by our country in the early days.

Today we are able to send and receive mail from all over the world in much shorter time. With the decrease in the cost of airmail, it is possible for more people to use the airmail system. I for one, am in favor of a greater airmail system.

—Jim E. Cook.

I believe that airmail took a big step forward by reducing the cost of airmail to five cents. Now more people will send all their personal and business letters by air. Soon airmail will cost no more than regular mail. This will help to bring everyone closer together.

—Janet Timmons.

I think the new five cent airmail stamp is making quite an advancement toward civic progress. Business men may now send their letters faster and safer, with a substantial markdown in cost. It is an invaluable aid to the public and I think some laurels ought to go to the post office for it!

Joycene Thompson.

"LAURA" THE ATTRACTION AT PASADENA PLAYHOUSE

In the rare, three way hit bracket belongs Vera Caspary's celebrated story called "Laura" which is at the Pasadena Playhouse to December 22 in its footlight version.

As a novel and as a film hit, "Laura" hit the high spots of fancy with booklovers and filmgoers and now its clever plotting makes for playgoer enjoyment and a spine tingling evening of theatre.

Familiar is the story of the mysterious and beautiful Laura, her disappearance and the three men who become involved in her past and present life George

PEARL HARBOR

Five years have passed since that Sunday morning in December 1941 when Pearl Harbor was suddenly changed from a scene of sabbath stillness to one of flame and fury and chaos.

The wreckage of the great battlewagons was still smoldering when the shout arose, "Remember Pearl Harbor!" That became the rallying cry around which our war effort centered. We remembered Pearl Harbor. We remembered the thousands who were killed and wounded in that attack. We remembered the vicious trickery of the enemy. We remembered how close we had come to complete disaster.

These things we kept before us until nearly four years later when what the Japs had started at Pearl Harbor we finished in Tokyo Bay.

Now the war seems long past, and Pearl Harbor a tragic event of ages ago. But we have not forgotten it. And we must not forget it—not just the attack itself but all the things that made the attack possible. We must not forget, for instance, that it was our foolish policy of supplying the Japs with great quantities of oil and scrap iron that enabled them to launch the war against us; that it was our feeling of smug security which prevented us from being alert and ready for any sudden thrust from a possible enemy.

Keeping these things in mind we shall never again build up the military power of an aggressor nation, nor shall we grow careless about our own defense. But we must not stop there. Rather, we must go on from there to help achieve that understanding and co-operation among nations which alone can bring us—and the world—sure protection and lasting peace.

The attack from the skies on that December morning half a decade ago was one of the most stunning blows our nation ever sustained. But out of it came big lessons—lessons which will always help us so long as we remember Pearl Harbor.

CHRISTMAS TOYS

American toy manufacturers are turning out—or already have turned out, we should say—a "bumper crop" of dolls, wagons, games and the innumerable other items that will be found around the Christmas tree on the 25th of December.

This year the quality—and the price—of toys will be much higher than during the war. With rubber again in abundance it is being used for many purposes where other materials had been substituted.

Some day manufacturers may turn out an unbreakable toy, but as long as kids are kids their chances of doing it aren't great.

Stirred by the wrecking of the wooden bridge over the Little Santa Anita wash in Canyon Park, all forces of the city have joined in a campaign to have the structure replaced by a 20 foot concrete span.

Sierra Madre students attending Woodrow Wilson Jr. High are active in all the doings there. Marlin Mackie, Mary Groth, Rose, Marie Forester, James Hoxsey and Florence Ingis are in the cast of the operetta, "The Sun-bonnet Girl," booked for December 9 and 11.

AROUND AND ABOUT

By Edward Lloyd Voorhees

GLASGOW—Scottish hospitality, public and private.

The Scottish people have a well-merited reputation for warm and forthright hospitality, both public and private. Our General Dwight Eisenhower can doubtless testify to both, for on his recent visit to Scotland as a national guest he was given for his lodging Culzean Castle in Ayrshire, overlooking the Firth of Clyde—"apartments among the high towers," as reported by the United Press, and "complete with massive rock walls, battlements, and blood-filled traditions." Modernized apartments in cold and drafty old castles can be and often are made quite cozy, and the General doubtless made some interesting observations on the physical comforts which applied science has been able to add to surroundings of ancient historic interest. And there is something about living in a "real castle" that, thanks to our storybook childhood, our movies, and our cartoon "castles," causes just about every American boy and girl to reach adulthood incurably romantic about donjon keeps, moats, draw-bridges, and battlemented towers. With commons with my fellow Americans, it is one of the disappointments of my life that it has never been my good fortune to stay over-night in a castle—and greet the dawn from the battlements!

My own impressions and experiences of native Scottish hospitality are of a much humbler quality than those of the General, but nonetheless real. Besides the cordial and homey atmosphere I have already mentioned as apparently typical of Scottish hotels, my short visit to that country afforded me, in Glasgow, one experience of personal hospitality which, simple as it was, I like to believe typical of that warm-hearted people—the same genuine and disinterested warmth which years before I had encountered among Scottish people in the sparsely settled Canadian Northwest. The Glasgow experience began when I entered a tavern for an early dinner on one of those cool, mid-summer evenings when darkness, in that high latitude, does not fall until after ten o'clock. The dining room was cheery with the tinkling of cutlery and spoons on crockery and glass, the rapid movements of waiters bearing trays of steaming food to the various large "common" tables covered with red-and-white checked table cloths. And there was a bar at one side, where the tender was busy drawing large glasses of ale and stout, and mixing stronger potables in smaller glasses. The host greeted me pleasantly, and taking me to the one vacant place at a table where a half-dozen or more business men were having informal conversation by two's and three's over their meal, he made some informal introductory remark to the man at my left, at the end of the table, as he seated me.

My new companion, who greeted me cordially with a marked appearance. Slightly under average height, but was of broad and stocky build, with a smooth-shaven face, large and well-moulded features, his head was most fitting, for his head was much larger than average size, set firmly on the short, strong neck. The forehead was low and broad and strongly modelled, the frontal bones with their shaggy eyebrows setting off the clear, dark eyes, direct and steady in their gaze as he talked. But the most remarkable feature was his hair, such a shock of it and so thick it gave the impression that each individual hair was crowding others for space, a great mass of unruly strands and layers and waves, jet black, and bristling with vitality, like the man himself. When Tom—as my new acquaintance given name proved to be—told me he had come originally from the Shetland Islands, there formed in my mind the image of a shaggy, sturdy Shetland pony which has never shaken itself free from my image of the man.

But Tom's mind and temperament were neither shaggy nor slow. For many years he had lived in Dundee and then in Glasgow, a blender and mixer of Scotch whiskey, employed by a souvenir gift-bottle of the proper stuff itself, which I carried back to America and treasured for many a year, until the sight of it got the better of me and I succumbed, one cold winter's night. Tom talked on general topics, asked me several questions about America, and finally, in answer to my question, about his boyhood home, he told me something of the remote and primitive life in the Shetlands, that group of some hundred tiny rocky islands fifty miles north-east of Scotland's northernmost tip, and how it was next to impossible for a ship to enter or leave his home seaport during the long winter months because of the almost continuous stormy weather.

This man, who appeared almost a ruffian at first sight, as the evening wore on proved to be as intelligent, versatile, and cultivated a man as I have rarely met in so casual a manner. To acquaint an American traveler with his city, it was at his invitation I saw before the late twilight ended, several of the beauty spots and fine architecture of Glasgow. And though I can not recall, and did not record, whether I dined on a haggis or a ham that evening—though I do recall plenty of nut brown ale—I can vouch that my good Scotch acquaintance guided me through the grounds of the University, with its gray and solid granite, through the fine botanical gardens, down the grassy and wooded slopes of Kelvingrove Park to the river Kelvin where we saw a solitary swan settling down for the night on a very small island just offshore, and that it all made a pretty picture with the reflection of the pink and gray clouds of the west behind and above the trees and along the water. And I noticed that we both felt the same way about it.

Then he intimated that he would like me to see his home and make the acquaintance of his wife—who would be home by now, after spending the day with a relative. And I saw that he meant it, and "home" we went. It was a small apartment in the suburbs, furnished comfortably and with good taste, with plenty of good books and some interesting pictures, and a fine grand piano of full-grown size. Soon after Tom had let us in with his latch key his wife appeared from an inner room, as slender and well-groomed as Tom was stocky and shaggy. A woman of fine poise, tact, and wit, she met the situation as a thoroughbred, and when I let it be known in our ensuing conversation that I enjoyed good music, Tom dragged out his violin and the two of them played several duets and Mrs. Tom sang some Scotch songs in a good, natural voice. Then Tom and I had a drink or two of a pleasant beverage, and I think it was in the midst of the tea and hot scones brought in by Mrs. Tom that they "discovered" the hour had passed for the last tram back into town. After we had expressed our mutual hopes that this fact would cause no inconvenience to each other, we settled down and had a good, leisurely visit until an early hour of the morning. Then I was tucked into an adequately comfortable little guest nook, with a promise that I should be roused in good time to catch my train in Glasgow for my return to Edinburgh. And so it was. And so passed my last evening and night in Glasgow, with a good cup of tea and porridge next morning, and a warm farewell from as likable a couple as I have encountered in many a journey.

with GAS—you've hot water galore

KEEP THE FAMILY HAPPY—keep 'em in hot water! Nothing can warm up a temper faster than a hot water tap that runs cold. If that happens, even occasionally, in your home, it's high time you got the facts about an adequately-sized, automatic gas water heater.

Shaves, showers, cleaning chores by the dozens—even an automatic dishwasher and automatic washing machine—won't exhaust the supply of the right-size storage tank. Moreover, an adequately-sized automatic gas water heater is a real economy. It won't be "overworked"; will actually last longer.

Ask your dealer or merchant plumber about the right-size automatic gas water heater for your family. Do something about insuring plenty of hot water for everything in your home—now!

FIRE FLAMES

Good luck for us, the firemen. The recent rains have dampened things so much that we have more time to devote to the Christmas Party. The fields and hills are so beautiful now that it is a shame for summer to come along and change all the coloring to dry brown. That may be a fine color to some people, but to firemen, it means dryness and danger. (At any rate we got in a plug for the Annual Dance and Card Party to be held at the Woman's Club on the evening of December 14th. Now if there is any doubt about when, where and at what time, read the lines over again. It the boys have failed to appear at your door, notify the Chief and he'll know the reason why.)

Several of our standby members have at last made up their minds that a good looking blue fireman's uniform helps a lot in approaching the front door of a prospective buyer of a Dance ticket, therefore new uniforms are now being donned by those who have paid many fines for not having one. It is a strict rule of the organization that each and every active member own a fire uniform.

It is reported by the men that tickets are selling as always and being bought by good natured folks who have met the situation before. New people are acquainted with the object and few object. Rather they fall right in line with the idea. Material for making stockings to be used to fill for the kiddies is an apparently "hard to get" article. If anyone knows of any that is available, we will jump right on a wagon and go after it. To date, we have only been able to get enough for about one half of the required number. We are at a loss as to what to use for a substitute. Secretary Joe Swanson has always looked after this end of the purchases and he is really worried. Feelers have been extended in all directions known. To date little of the material is on hand. It is hoped that we will be able to have something presentable.

The stockings are cut and made by our local ladies, most of whom are wives of firemen. Mrs. Mary Richards has cut and shaped them for a great number of years and this year is no exception. She said that she has now reached a stage of the game where a system is used and great speed is accomplished. Other ladies about town are asked to sew and in this way, the stockings are made for Santa Claus.

Sidetracking the ANNUAL EVENT for a few lines, we will refer to the recent dinner held at Lizzie's Trail Inn. Tables spread with enough food for 50 people was eaten to a crumb by 25 firemen, and not one even thought of yelling "enuff". Amusement followed the feast included "fortune telling" by secretary Swanson and "losing a fortune" by Jim Heasley. Another story told at this noted affair was "Bringin' in the Sheaves" by Louis Karger. And brothers, he told it and how. Harold Spears failed to respond to Louie's and story and despite that he ought, Harold didn't cry. Among those who gave a fine demonstration on "How to eat and remain thin" were Gordon G. McMillan, Lorne Pratt, Bob Newbery and son, Bill, Charlie Brown, and Ed Decker. Others who represented the "Laugh and Grow fat" adage, were such slender folks as Mel Morse, Bob Clark, Joe Grippi and so on. A good time was had by all and such good times can't but encourage larger, better and bigger fires for the future. Do your cussing early and support an early future dinner.

We cannot escape the idea after all, we are fire fighters. When we are preventing fires from starting, we are fighting fire. To prevent fire is to remind folks that there is never a time when we are safe from that demon called fire. The more careful we are and the longer we practice being careful, the safer we will be for the longer time, etc. If we watch everything pertaining to fire with an eagle eye, there is little danger of fire. And this applies to all of us, including the writer. Hope that I practice what I preach. If we are alert, careful, cool, calm, ready for action and fire conscious, there will be few fires to fight, and that's O.K. by us, so let's keep the FIRES OUT.

California Drivers To Wait 2-6 Months For '47 Plates

California motorists will probably have to wait from two to six months before receiving their 1947 automobile license plates, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California, which revealed today that temporary certificates, with 1947 numbers designated, will be issued to car owners in lieu of two license plates by the California Motor Vehicle Department during the coming renewal period of Jan. 2 to Feb. 4, inclusive.

Under this temporary measure, motorists will be required to keep their certificates in sight in the driver's compartment, and the 1946 plate will remain on all vehicles until replaced by new ones for the following year, the Club announces.

The pre-war policy of issuing two plates per car is to be resumed in 1947, and they will be mailed to applicants as soon as they become available. Registration fees are to be paid, as usual, at the time of application during the renewal period.

PRE-SMOG DAYS RECALLED BY M. D. WELSHER

The days when Southern California's natural beauty gleamed like a jewel in the crystal clear atmosphere, and the eye could discern distant vistas with utmost ease, were recalled last week by Mark D. Welsher, retired early day Sierra Madre merchant.

In comparing the clear visibility of those days with the smog enshrouded atmosphere of today, Mr. Welsher says that in 1909 one could look south from Sierra Madre and see Catalina Island out in the Pacific, a sight that can seldom be seen from the mainland today, even from Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Welsher first came to California on a visit in 1903, from their home in western New York state. They arrived in Los Angeles just as the Pacific Electric building on Main street was under construction, and people were talking about the folly of constructing such a large building "away out at Sixth and Main."

The charm of California's Southland captivated the Welshers, and six years later, in 1909, they disposed of their eastern business interests and moved to Sierra Madre.

At that time the new Woman's Clubhouse was the center of most of the town's social life and nearly everyone attended the many festivities held there.

Life was extremely pleasant in Sierra Madre in those days, the Welshers recall, and everyone in the community was known to everyone else.

From 1909 until 1928, Mr. Welsher operated the Postoffice Grocery in the Old Town Hall which was located on the present site of the Union Oil station at Baldwin and Sierra Madre Blvd.

Dispensing groceries and meats, Mr. Welsher supplied the needs of many local residents, as well as supplying the pack trains that carried food and other staples into the nearby mountains.

District agricultural inspectors estimate the 1947 navel orange crop at 90 percent of a full crop. Fruit splitting of both navel and Valencia oranges has been greater than usual. While navel oranges continued to split on the trees in November, the rate decreased from earlier in the fall. In many orchards the navel oranges are small and irregular in size although most of the fruit is larger than at this time last year. Following the rains, lemons are growing rapidly. Storage holdings remain low and prices have been high as a result of the small volume available for market.

PARTY TREATS

It wouldn't be a Holiday season without a special treat for all visitors, whether invited or unexpected. Here are some Merry Christmas treats from our kitchen to yours that I am sure you'll enjoy. Wrap these for Christmas stockings, keep a tray ready for your open house or remember your neighbors with a thoughtful surprise. Several days before Christmas, start your cookie mixing. Wrap the rolled dough in wax paper and store in your refrigerator to be sliced and baked at your convenience. This is the season for all the decorations, so don't spare the fancy shapes, the colored icing and the chopped nuts. Try some of these tempting recipes.

BUTTERSCOTCH CRISPS

(refrigerator cookies)
1 C. shortening
2 C. brown sugar
2 eggs
1 C. nut meats
3 1/2 C. flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. nutmeg
Cream shortening and sugar. Add beaten eggs; stir until smooth. Add nut meats. Work in sifted dry ingredients. It may be necessary to work in last of flour mixture by kneading. Make into three or four rolls, or pack in loaf pan. Wrap in wax paper. Chill for several hours in refrigerator. Slice not too thin; bake at 350 F. for 10 to 15 minutes.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1 C. white sugar
1 C. brown sugar
1/2 C. shortening
1/2 C. peanut butter
2 eggs
2 C. sifted flour
1 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
Cream shortening, peanut butter and sugar; add well-beaten eggs. Add sifted dry ingredients. Form into small balls and place on cookie sheets; flatten with fork or bottom of a glass tumbler; or form into rolls, chill and slice. Bake at 350 F. about 12-15 minutes.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

RED meat on the butchers' shelves? Why, sure. But don't you dare forget to serve tempting fish dishes, too. Even though it seems impossible now, the family can fire of meat every day, and a beautiful steak will be welcomed with gusto.

Savory sauces add flavor to fish dishes and Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods kitchens suggests Fluffy Lemon Parsley Sauce for salmon.

Fresh Salmon Dinner

3 pound piece Boiling salted
fresh salmon water
1 medium sized Tomato halves
onion Onion slices
2 celery tops Watercress
1 bay leaf Melted vitamin-
ized margarine
Wipe salmon with damp cloth. Wrap in cheesecloth and place on plate immersed in kettle of boiling salted water (1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart water). Add cut up onion, celery tops and bay leaf. Cover and boil slowly 25-30 minutes. Lift by cloth onto cake cooler to drain. Remove cloth and skin. Place fish on hot serving dish. Garnish with grilled tomato halves, topped with small onion slices brushed with melted margarine. Yield: 6 generous servings.

Fluffy Lemon Parsley Sauce
3 tablespoons 1 egg yolk
vitalized 1 1/2 teaspoons
margarine grated lemon
2 tablespoons rind
flour 2 tablespoons
1/2 teaspoon salt lemon juice
1 cup boiling 1 egg white water beaten stiff
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Melt margarine in saucepan. Add flour and cook until it bubbles. Add salt and gradually the boiling water, stirring smooth. Cook until thickened. Add a little to egg yolk, mix and add egg to saucepan. Cook a minute longer. Remove from fire, add lemon rind, juice and parsley and fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Yield: about 1 1/2 cups.

Good Breakfasts During December Will Buoy You Up For Busy Days!

If your December mornings are downpours of detail like Christmas shopping, baking, wrapping, mailing and a thousand other things with only you to do them, you'll want to know about the good breakfast trick of building your strength and energy.

Starting the day with a good breakfast means sidetracking headaches, fumbling, dizziness that are caused by insufficient food between your last night's meal and the one at noon. After all, the average person has been "fasting" for a full 12 hours when he gets up in the morning. Break that fast with a good breakfast and see how much easier the day's routine will look, how much better you'll feel!

GOOD BREAKFAST

With the help of our modern, streamlined foods like the nutritious breakfast cereals, the morning meal is no longer a time-taker in preparation. Good breakfasts that contribute the required one-fourth to one-third of the day's food values are "quickies" in these modern times. Using a simple breakfast pattern of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter, you can get a quick and wholesome breakfast with splendid nutrition. The cereal is considered the main dish in this pattern and well it may be since an average serving of cereal with milk and sugar contributes all these nutrients in a single, thrifty dish: top quality protein, the B vitamins (thiamine, niacin, riboflavin), the minerals calcium, phosphorus, iron and energy.

HAVE A HELPING OF HOT CEREAL!

In these streamlined days a nourishing bowl of hot cereal is no longer a time-taking task to prepare. There's a good variety of hearty, hot cereals today that have a cooking time of from only 3 to 5 minutes! Count among them some of the most satisfying members of the good cereal family. If time is infinitely pressing in the morning pare it down even further by pre-cooking your cooked cereal the night before, reheating it in the morning for a robust breakfast dish that will stand you in good stead the morning through.

Here are quick-to-serve menus based on a reliable breakfast pattern that will give your good spirits the firm support they need to match the festive season!
